New N Scale 12-1 Heavyweight Sleepers

This 83' heavyweight 12-1 sleeper is painted Pullman Green with gold logo and lettering. It was built by Pullman Standard in 1910 and runs on six-wheel passenger trucks. From 1910 through 1930 Pullman built over 8,000 steel sleeping, parlor and club/lounge cars; almost half of these were the famous 12 section — 1 drawing room ("12-1") sleepers. The introduction of the steel cars brought the end of the luxurious, artisan-crafted, and custom designed wooden cars which had been the rule since the 1880s. With the opening of the Pennsylvania Station in New York in 1910 and the Grand Central Terminal in 1913, passenger safety in the tunnels approaching these buildings demanded a more noncombustible material.

This Pullman heavyweight sleeper is painted Pullman Green with "Empire Builder" logo and lettering in metallic gold. It was built in 1910 by Pullman-Standard and runs on six wheel passenger trucks. From 1910 through 1930 Pullman built well over 8,000 steel sleeping, parlor and club/lounge cars. The introduction of the steel cars brought the end of the luxurious, artisan-crafted and custom-designed wooden cars which had been the rule since the 1880s. With the opening of the Pennsylvania Station in New York in 1910 and the Grand Central Terminal in 1913, passenger safety in the tunnels approaching these buildings demanded a more noncombustible material than wood.

Pennsylvania
Road Number PRR 260665

This aluminum Evans 3-Bay covered hopper has fixed, elongated hatches wears the black Pennsylvania "Keystone" logo and lettered in black. It runs on black Barber roller bearing trucks. These cars were similar to a series of class H47 hoppers built earlier, with a capacity of 200,000 lbs and volume capacity of 4750cu. ft. This car wears the "Plain Keystone" paint scheme used from late 1961 through 1968. The paint scheme is devoid of the large "Pennsylvania" lettering and used the keystone logo with large, gothic reporting marks. An additional note on the side of the car warns not use the car to transport caustics, such as lime.

Disconnect Log Car

Produced at the dawn of the 20th Century, disconnect log cars were the backbone of a number of standard and narrow gauge railroads throughout the Western United States. Our model represents an all steel version equipped with Hercules Logging Bunks that swivel as does the prototype. The resin log load is secured with scale brass tie down chains. The model also features Magne-Matic® couplers on each end of the car as was prototypical.

Lyndon Johnson Presidential Car Road Number 1963-1969

This 40' standard box car with plug door and no roofwalk is car #23 of a 44-car series representing each of the presidents of the United States. It bears the portrait of our 36th president, Lyndon Johnson. The car comes with a commemorative pin replicated from this era. Johnson was responsible for designing the Great Society legislation that included laws that upheld civil rights, public broadcasting, Medicare, Medicaid, environmental protection, aid to education, and his War on Poverty. Simultaneously, he greatly escalated direct involvement in the Vietnam War.

Oath of Office Trivia Contest Question: Which President purchased a failing newspaper in Ohio for $300 after graduating college, at age 24 spent several weeks in Battle Creek Sanitarium due to exhaustion, and was the first president to visit the state of Alaska?

Southern Pacific® Road Number SP 317

This brown 30' flat car has white lettering and runs on brown Arch Bar trucks. The Southern Pacific narrow gauge is the informal name given to a network of narrow gauge railroad lines operated by the Southern Pacific Railroad (SP) in western Nevada and eastern California. The SP narrow gauge system operated on the tracks of the former Carson and Colorado Railroad, purchased in 1900 by the Southern Pacific, which continued to operate it as the Carson and Colorado. The name of the railroad was changed to Nevada and California Railway on May 11, 1905 and in 1912 the name was again changed to Southern Pacific.
