

Milwaukee Road Road Number 853

This 60' RPO heavyweight passenger car is painted orange with maroon band and black pin striping. The herald and lettering is metallic gold. It was built in 1913 and converted into Mail & Express Service in 1936. It runs on six-wheel RPO trucks. This car was originally numbered into RPO series 2103-2135; by 1936 the Milwaukee had converted most of it's RPOs into "Mail & Express" service; this car was re-numbered to 1853. By 1949, MILW's M&E #1853 was converted to an express car and re-numbered to #853.

Western Pacific[®] Road Number WP 12012

WP 12012 is a three bay Center Flow covered hopper with elongated hatches. It's painted gray with black herald and lettering. It was built in October 1979 and runs on Barber Roller Bearing trucks. The Western Pacific Railroad was a Class I railroad in the United States, formed in 1903 as an attempt to break the near-monopoly of the Southern Pacific Railroad's service into Northern California. WP's Feather River Route directly competed for nearly 80 years with SP's portion of the Overland Route for rail traffic between Salt Lake City and Ogden, UT, and Oakland, CA. In 1983 the Western Pacific was acquired by the Union Pacific Railroad.

WP[®] is a registered trademark of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Road Number ATSF 9010

This 50' standard box car with Youngstown door was built in July 1957 and serviced in October 1970. It was painted brown with black ends, with white logo and lettering, and runs the South Western District on Barber Roller Bearing trucks. A Class Bx-72 box car, it's equipped with a nailable steel floor; 42 of these cars numbered into series 9000-9041. The car has a tar-like paint called "car cement" applied to the ends.

#031 00 420...$28.35

Algoma Central Road Number AC 8377

This is a three bay Ortner rapid discharge hopper painted green with white and black logo and white lettering. It was built in January 1974, serviced in June 1998, and runs on Barber Roller Bearing trucks. The Algoma Central Railway was initially owned by Francis H. Clergue, who required a railway to haul resources from the interior of the Algoma District to Clergue's industries in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada; The Algoma Central Railway was chartered on August 11, 1899. The railway's dominion and provincial charters gave it authority to build north from Sault Ste. Marie to a junction with the Canadian Pacific Railway's main line, as well as a branch line to Michipicoten Harbour on Lake Superior.

Smithsonian Civil War Series Car #10: Sherman's March

Sherman's March to the Sea is the name often given to the Savannah Campaign conducted by Major General William Sherman in 1864. Sherman's troops began their 300-mile march on November 15th, destroying railroad track, telegraph lines, infrastructure and industry all the way from Atlanta to Savannah, Georgia. Since his Army would be cut off from traditional supply lines, Sherman had designated groups of men responsible for foraging food and supplies from farms. While very controversial, Sherman's methods proved to effectively break the South's ability to wage war against the Union.
