NEW

Union Pacific[®] Road Number UP 2240

This 70' heavyweight mail baggage car is grey with white and black lettering and runs on 6-wheel passenger trucks. Built for Union Pacific in 1912 as number 1310, it was renumbered and was later repainted into the postwar two-tone grey scheme until 1953. It continued to serve for Union Pacific until 1957 when it was retired.

#148 00 190...$34.90

NEW

Pennsylvania Railroad Road Number PRR 84916

This 50' standard box car with 8' double sliding doors, no roofwalk and short ladders is Tuscan Red with white lettering and runs on Bettendorf trucks. Rebuilt in the mid-1960s from older box cars, this X41H double-door box car had its running boards and side-sill reinforcements removed. It continued to serve through the 1970s and early 1980s.

#182 00 080...$24.25

NEW

Department of Defense Road Number DODX 14332

This 56' general service tank car is aluminum with black lettering and runs on Barber Roller Bearing trucks. Built for the Department of Defense in 1976 by American Car & Foundry, this 20,000-gallon tank car was used to transport jet fuel to military air bases across the country.

NEW

Union Pacific[®] Road Number TTGX 980001

This 89' tri-level closed autorack is yellow with UP[®] shield and runs on Barber Roller Bearing trucks. This enclosed autorack design became the universal standard for most railroads by the mid-1970s, as it prevented vandalism and pilferage and helped to protect vehicles from the elements. It is commonly used to this day.

#111 00 280...$49.95

NEW

Union Pacific[®] Road Number USAX 19414

This 50' troop sleeper is dark green and runs on Allied Full Cushion trucks. During WWII, Union Pacific produced a variety of morale-boosting posters that depicted the railroad's involvement in supporting the war. The car features a B-17 bomber plane flown by Colin Kelly, in the days following the Pearl Harbor attack. He was honored as an American hero after ordering his crew to bail just before being shot down.

HEINZ[®] Road Number 312

This 36' wood sheathed ice reefer with truss rods is brown with decorated sides and runs on Arch Bar trucks. The H.J. Heinz Company was founded in 1869 by Henry John Heinz, first manufacturing horseradish. By the early 1900s, Heinz was manufacturing over 60 food products and relied heavily on their fleet of over 700 colorful billboard boxcars to distribute their products across the country.

Northern Pacific Road Number NP 14173

This 36' wood sheathed ice reefer with truss rods is brown with yellow sides and runs on Arch Bar trucks. Northern Pacific was formed in 1864, and by 1883 had over 6,000 miles of track across the Northwestern United States from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean.

#058 00 390...$27.40

Western Pacific® Road Number WP 220084

This 40' standard box car with single door is pullman green with yellow lettering and runs on Bettendorf trucks. Built in 1937, it was later converted by Western Pacific in 1941 into a less-than-carload express boxcar. It was renumbered into the 220071-220194 series, and equipped with wood running boards, steam lines, and friction bearing trucks.

#020 00 097...$29.85

Baltimore & Ohio® Road Number B&O 186675

This 100-ton 3-bay open hopper with rib sides is black with yellow lettering and runs on Barber Roller Bearing trucks. It was temporarily converted into a covered hopper with the addition of a bright yellow fiberglass "Hopper Topper." These cars essentially became grain hoppers, and were implemented by Chessie System, Conrail and other roads in the 1970s to help meet demand during seasonal increases in agricultural production and other commodities.

NEWBurlington Northern Road Name 'Yellowstone River'

This modernized heavyweight business car is green with a white band and runs on 6-wheel Common-wealth trucks. Originally built for Northern Pacific in 1955, it was named "Yellowstone River." In 1971 the car received the Burlington Northern two-tone green scheme, and a year later was painted in the green and white "Hockey Stick" scheme which lasted until 1995.

NEWSwift Refrigerator Line
Road Numbers 1944/18792

These 40' wood reefers are brown with yellow sides and run on Bettendorf trucks. Built in July 1931, this wood-sheathed ice reefer was used well into the 1950s. Gustav P. Swift was an influential figure in the development of the refrigerator car for shipping dressed meat. Before the mechanical reefer, wood construction was preferred over steel because wood was a better natural insulator and would not rust from melting ice.

COMING NOVEMBER 2018

Southern Pacific® covered this 50' box car with plexi-glass on one side and standard solid steel on the other. It became known as the 'Impact' car used for freight protection instruction - switchmen and trainmen observed the effect of coupling when speeds exceed the safe limit of 4 miles per hour or more. To demonstrate the impact, loose skids, cartons, or barrels would be placed inside the car and a 'handling thermometer' measures the damage. an impact speed indicator (speedometer) measures the coupling speed.
